Plan to spend a "cool" afternoon at the museum viewing some of the 150 nativity sets in Janet Sheaffer's collection.

Sheaffer had one nativity set when she was in grade school, and started collecting when she started teaching. She has received many nativity sets as gifts from family and friends. Some are sets people have made, and many are sets purchased by people when they were traveling in foreign countries.

She also has a number of tree ornaments to complete her collection.

Museum hours on Sunday are from 1 to 4 p.m.
