

Still time to join MCC computer class in Palisade

A user- friendly computer class for beginners offered by McCook Community College is set for three Thursdays in September in Palisade.

The classes will focus on the basic understanding of computers and computer language. Students will gain the confidence to understand basics and take home useful skills like using the task bar, creating folders for saving, sending, and receiving email.

The class runs three Thursdays in September, starting Sept. 15 and will be held at Wireless INet (the former Valley Pro building, 203 South Main Street in Palisade) from 1-3:30 p.m. CT each day.

Cost is $69 per person and computers will be furnished.

Class size is limited so registration is required no later than Sept. 12.

You can register by phone with the Center for Enterprise, 308-345-8122; in person at the Center for Enterprise office in McMillen Hall on the MCC campus, 1205 E. Third, McCook; or by email at CFEMcCook@MPCC.edu
