

'Timely' event at museum Sunday

Written by Wauneta Breeze

Wednesday, 22 August 2012 21:55 -

"Time" is running out to spend Sunday afternoons at the Chase County Museum.

People are invited to be part of the program this Sunday by taking the "time" to bring their favorite clock, whether it is an antique, a family heirloom or just a favorite, to share with others.

Richard Johnson of Imperial will spend "time" explaining how several of his clocks work and answer questions.

Museum hours Sunday will be 1 to 4 p.m.