Fans of the Styx, Justin Moore and The Talbott Brothers, all who will perform at this year's Chase County Fair, have just a week left to take advantage of the "Buy in July" ticket promotion.

Considerable savings can be realized by purchasing tickets to the fair's Friday and Saturday night shows before next Thursday, Aug. 1.

Also, if more than 10 standing room only tickets are purchased in one transaction, additional money can be saved.

Tickets ordered before Aug. 1 are $27.50 each for the standing-only area and $32.50 for reserved seats. After Aug. 1, the prices raise to $32.50 and $37.50.

If a purchaser buys more than 10 tickets at once, cost will be just $25 per ticket. Those 10 tickets can be purchased in any combination for Friday and Saturday nights and are restricted to the standing room only area.

Headliner for the Friday Aug. 16, show is country music star Justin Moore, who will be joined by The Talbott Brothers from Imperial.

In addition to the show tickets, people can also purchase demo derby and carnival ride mega passes now by calling the ticket office or ordering online.

Co-ticket manager Larry Munger said the ticket office will be moving to the fairgrounds on Monday, Aug. 5.

At that time, the office will also start selling the fair barbecue tickets for Aug. 17. Tickets for the Christian Family Night Show featuring Laura Story on Aug. 14 will be sold there the day of the show for $5 plus tax.

week.

All boxholders in Chase County will receive one in the mail by this weekend.

In addition, anyone outside of Chase County who has ordered tickets in the past three years will also receive a brochure in the mail.

This year, fair organizers decided to send the brochure closer to the fair dates rather than the late June-early July schedule.

With the later date, fair organizers feel the brochure will be a more effective promotion for the fair. In addition, the brochure will be more timely for referencing fair activities.
