

Pheasant banquet supports area projects

Written by Wauneta Breeze

Friday, 24 February 2012 18:47 - Last Updated Friday, 24 February 2012 18:49

Joe Weiss of the Southwestern Nebraska Chapter of Pheasants Forever shows off this year's Print of the Year by Robert Bateman. The print features a rooster and hen pheasants in a snowy scene. The banquet will be held Saturday night at the Imperial City Gym.

By Carolyn Lee

The Imperial Republican

There's a little something for everyone at the 22nd annual Southwestern Nebraska Chapter of Pheasants Forever Saturday night. The banquet and auction will be held at the Imperial City Gym. The social hour begins at 5:30 p.m. with dinner at 7 p.m.

The cost of the prime rib sandwich dinner is $12 per person. The cost of a family membership is $35. Tickets will be available at the door or by calling Joe Weiss at (308) 882-5039 or Jason Weiss at (308) 285-3741.

Following the dinner, silent and called auctions will be held, with items including five art prints, a hand-forged knife (locally made), a dinner gun, a spa package, a youth gun, a commemorative

Pheasant banquet supports area projects

Written by Wauneta Breeze

Friday, 24 February 2012 18:47 - Last Updated Friday, 24 February 2012 18:49

.22 revolver and much more.

Games for youth and adults will also be played. Youth who have attended past mentor hunts may wear their vest and hat to be entered into drawings for special prizes.