Music fans of the entertainers at this year's Chase County Fair have a few more days to take advantage of the "Buy in July" ticket promotion.

Considerable savings can be realized by purchasing tickets to the fair's Friday and Saturday night shows before next Wednesday, Aug. 1.

And if more than 10 tickets are bought in one transaction, additional money can be saved.

Tickets ordered before Aug. 1 are $30 each for the standing-only area and $35 for reserved seats. After Aug. 1, that price rises to $35 and $40.

In addition, if a purchaser buys more than 10 tickets at once, they will be $25 each prior to the Aug. 1 deadline for an additional $5 per-ticket savings.

Headliner for the Friday Aug. 17, show is country music legend Travis Tritt, who will be joined by country newcomer Hunter Hayes.

On Saturday, former lead singer for Bad Company and Ted Nugent, Brian Howe, will be joined by Theory of a Deadman on stage.

Shows both evenings will start at 7:30 p.m. MT

Ticket co-manager Larry Munger said they have sold over 18 percent of the tickets for each night.

To order tickets, people can call the ticket office in Imperial at 308-882-5260 or 800-472-3247, or orders can also be made online at: www.chasecountyfair.com

There is also a mail-in form available in the fair's ticket brochure located at many area businesses.
