The Wauneta Breeze

When I think back to last weekend's Harvest Festival the first word that comes to mind is, "Wow!" The second word that comes to mind is, "Whew!"

It's been close to 20 years since I've attended one of Wauneta's Harvest Festivals and I was taken aback by the number and variety of events offered this year.

As a former event planner I must commend the Harvest Fest Committee...that's a whole lot of activities to keep tabs on. I know it was no easy feat so, Thank You for all your hard work.

It was great to see Waunetans and Waunetans-at-heart get together and have a good time at the many events—the B&D/Brophy fast-pitch softball team, the water fights, all the kids activities. I could go on and on.

Events aside, there was something that struck me while in town on Saturday. Sure, there was some healthy competition going on in the event but even more so, was an overall feeling of camaraderie.

I think my favorite part was watching friends and neighbors reconnect in the spirit of celebrating the town we live in.

What a celebration!

Taking time to appreciate the place where you live and the people you see everyday isn't done often enough in my opinion.

It was great to see and I can't wait to watch and participate in next year's Harvest Festival. It just goes to show, Wauneta really is a great place to live.
