

A partnership worth celebrating

Written by Wauneta Breeze
Thursday, 10 October 2013 16:08 -

By Sheri Hink-Wagner

The Wauneta Breeze

This week, Oct. 6-12, is a big week for those of us who work in the newspaper industry. It marks National Newspaper Week when we celebrate the importance of newspapers to communities, large and small.

All of us at the Breeze take our service to the communities we serve seriously. We are committed to providing you honest, unbiased news coverage of local events, sports, happenings and even oddities.

We appreciate each and every call giving us a “heads up” of something going on in the community.

When community members ask me why something didn’t appear in the newspaper, I usually respond with regret, saying it would have been included if only I’d known about it.

So thank you for your calls, emails, facebook messages and every other “heads up” of happenings within Wauneta and Palisade. Your tips help us make the newspaper more interesting for all our readers, near and far. It’s a partnership we treasure.

Earlier this year, the Breeze put out a 125th anniversary edition which celebrated the first 125 years of Breeze coverage of Wauneta’s history.

A partnership worth celebrating

Written by Wauneta Breeze

Thursday, 10 October 2013 16:08 -

We were with you for the past 125 years, and we want to be with you for the years to come.

We take pride in providing you with one source for all things local—from local interest stories to public notices and reports on public meetings to help keep our locally elected officials held accountable to their promises to community residents.

We especially enjoy sharing your personal news. We delight in celebrating new births in the community or with ties to the community and sharing in the mourning of departed community members. That is why we appreciate the community's support so much.

Every subscription, ad from local businesses, birthday ad and anniversary ad helps us keep our doors open so we can continue to serve the community we know and love.

But, all this is not possible without the continued support of you, our readers. As a business, your support is vital to our ability to provide these services to the community.

From all of us at the Breeze—Sheri, Susan, Bert, Diane and Christi—thanks for reading and thank you for letting us be your partner in the community. We love serving Wauneta and being your source for local news.

Hard work and perseverance have gotten us through the past 125 years. With your help and partnership, we can continue to bring you the services you've come to expect long into the future.